

Cub Scout Announcements

Leaders, please read these announcements at your next meeting, print and distribute to parents and/ or forward this email to parents

School Vacation Camp:

STEM Camp during April Vacation (16th-20th) is gearing up! A great week-long day camp for kids to do while not in school that keeps them active. Sign up your scout, girls and siblings welcome, for Cub-age STEM activities including rank-specific adventures.

More info and registration at NewEnglandCamp.org

Free Weekend Fun to Continue Scouting Enthusiasm:

Did you know that coming to New England Base Camp is not only for family fun but also for working on Cub Scout Adventures? The facility in Milton in particular has pathways around the camp for outdoor skills enjoyment and requirements. Weekend Open Programming starts up again the first weekend of April and continues through June.

Free for Scouts with the Adventure Card. More info and registration at NewEnglandBaseCamp.org

Satellite Location Programs for Cub Ranks:

Cub Scout Adventure Programs are held at 5 different locations around the council area. Parents participate in the afternoon adventure. Sign up your Den to participate in these special programs: Webelos will do Castaway, Bears Picnic Basket, Wolves Finding Your Way, Tigers Backyard Jungle, and Lions Lion Fun Day. Locations are Chelmsford, Gloucester, North Andover, Saugus & Wakefield.

Free as all Cubs have the Adventure Card. More info and sign ups at NewEnglandBaseCamp.org/Satellite-Programs

Equip Yourself with Skills to Make Your Spring Programs Great:

Experience Scout training outside a classroom setting. Prepare activities and acquire skills where Scout trainings are meant to take place...in the outdoors!

The New England Base Camp Outdoor Conference is for those trying to make their unit's outdoor experience more interesting and challenging. Courses are hands on and interactive with experts on hand to help you build on your unit's plan. You will leave having gained skills and ideas on how to take the well-grounded next step to enhance your program. Sixteen program areas and four courses in each. Join in the fun and training on April 29th at New England Base Camp in Milton.
